

Use of cookies

Updated: July 2019

When consulting the website www.sisley-paris.com/en-INT (hereinafter the Site), cookies will be installed on your device by SISLEY or its service providers. Cookies will be temporarily stored in a dedicated area.

The cookies used:

- facilitate your navigation on the Site and adapt the presentation of our Site to your device's display preferences (language used, operating system used, etc.);
 - help you search for products, services or information on our Site (product catalog, product category, shopping cart, etc.);
 - allow us to establish statistics and visitor numbers and allow the use of various elements that make up our Site (sections and content visited, routes, etc.);
 - allow you to access reserved and personal areas of our Site such as your account using identifiers or data that you may have entrusted to us;
 - allow us to offer you targeted advertising content to match your interests, the products and services that you have consulted on the Site, your navigation and our relationship history.
- Cookies from social networks: these are cookies saved by third parties when you visit our Site and use features from social media networks such as Facebook, Twitter and Youtube. We recommend that you read these social media networks' personal data protection and cookie policies carefully so that you are fully informed about these cookies. Under no circumstances may SISLEY be held responsible for the processing of personal data on these social media networks and its responsibility cannot therefore be sought in any way.
- Third parties may also use cookies while you browse our Site in order to identify cookies and personalize the advertisements aimed at you on or outside our Site. SISLEY cannot manage third-party cookies. Refusing cookies has no impact on the use of our Site. You will continue to see advertisements on the Internet that do not take into account your interests or preferences.

You can, at any time, configure your device in order to accept or refuse cookies using the methods described below.

To manage cookies and your choices, every browser is configured differently. You can find a description in your browser's help menu:
